Personal summary

Currently a student working towards an HND degree at Highlands College in IT and seeking opportunity to begin my career.

I have been interested in game development since a young age. It's a process that taught me to be creative, resilient and become familiar with new software. It also incentivized me to communicate well with other people and solve problems in a creative and optimised way. Willing to take on any task to support a team and help the business succeed.

Skills

For the past few years, I have gained and improved certain skills such as

Non-technical skills

- Problem solving
- Effective communication
- Creative
- Team worker
- Good organizational skills

Technical skills

> 3D modelling & texturing
> High understanding of Unity
> Basic Photoshop skills
> Basic C# programming skills
> Basic Web development skills

Experience

Been part-time working at Wok Fusion over the past 4 years, which allowed me to improve my organizational skills since I had to allocate time between work during weekends, schoolwork and passion projects during the week.

Some of the software I got familiar with for both college and passion projects:

- Blender and Autodesk Maya
- Substance painter
- Unity
- Unreal engine
